THE PASTOR REFUSES TO RESIGN.

The Rev. H. C. Lylburn, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, said yesterday in regard to the petition asking for his resignation, that he would not resign. He said: "The petition has not yet been presented to me. When I receive it I will be ready to talk; until then I prefer to say nothing. I may say, however, that when the petition comes to hand I will furnish a key to it in the form of an addenda. You may also say for me that I have different ideas of what the Church is from some of my critics. I do not look upon the Church as a mere club of men trying to get to heaven, but as the spirit of Almighty God come down upon earth to teach men's souls peace and goodwill, charity and brotherly love."

He left the town last spring suddenly, a week be-fore the day set for his marriage to Miss Marle Antoinette Manahan. His exit was the cause of much speculation, inasmuch as he was a favorite in social and club circles. It is said that he has returned to marry Miss Manahan and that they will live elsewhere.

TRYING TO SAVE KOHL'S NECK.

The case of Henry Kohl, convicted in Newark of murdering his cousin, Joseph Preinel, is now being considered by the Court of Pardons, Kohl's conviction was secured by circumstantial evidence, and in charging the jury Judge Depue indicated that there was considerable room for doubt. Eleven of the jurors have sgned a petition asking that Kohi's sentence be commuted to impresonment for life, and a majority of the lawyers of Essex County are said to favor that course. Kohi's confessor, Father Kammer, is strongly convinced of the young man's innocence.

WIDDEMERITES ON TRIAL.

GATION - THE ACCUSED PROTEST

Asbury Park, Jan. 3 (Special).-The first pitched tery of Monmouth against the followers of the Rev. Howard T. Widdemer, formerly paster of the Firs to-day. Fourteen members, including three ubordination and alleged disloyalty to the Presby tery of Monmouth. The names of the accuse Presbyterians, as called out by the clerk, are a follows: Captain Minot and wife, George Smock and wife, Charles Hunt and wife, Horace Dean and man, V. V. Le Roy, William F. Le Roy and Charle Mr. Widdemer, and for this offence they were com pelled to stand the first brunt of the battle.

After a long consultation, held last week, the cited Widdemerites decided on a plan of campaign which had for its mainspring a position of "neganembers claimed that the enemy held position b tacked by diplomatic manoeuvres. when court met this morning, the Moderator and osecuting counsel were served with a statemen congregation and its opinion of the Presbytery the meaning of the indignant members. After reciting Mr. Widdemer's side of the cas and their belief in him, the minister's partisans say: We feel that the committee before whom we are cited to appear has already made up its mind as to result of our trial, and so, without intending disrespect, we think it useless to prolong a strife, which can only end in the ruin of a peaceful harmonious church, established through many struggles and self-denials of its members. then, of all these facts, we, whose names are undersigned, decline to apear before the committee or Presbytery for trial, and we ask you to cansider this paper as our protest against your action and our answer to your charges.

Dr. Young of Matawah, se moderator and chairman of the special committee of investigation, called the meeting to order. Dr. Van Dyke, of Cranbury, and Dr. Tyack, of Hightown, appeared as prosecuting counsel. Dr. Dashiell, of Lakewood, one of the most persistent opponents of Widlemer, was appointed to defend the Widdemertes. The progress of the trial developed the extraordinary abilities of Mr. Dashiell as an advocate.

Dr. Hollafield, of Newark, who was chairman of the committee appointed by that Presbytery to investigate the charges against Mr. Widdemer, was the principal witness of the day. Dr. Hollafield tendered a complete review of all the proceedings in the case, showing how the committee had arrived at a decision to drep Mr. Widdemer from the rolls because he had, as they claimed was proven, obtained entrance to the Presbytery by a dishonorable concealment of facts in connection with his divorce in Connecticut. The doctor's evidence was seemingly strengthened by a letter signed by Mr. Wildemer, in which he agreed not to appeal from tery, and that he was one of Mr. Widdemer's principal supporters. Eider George Smock was next called to the bar. Mr. Smock in addition to being an elder is also one of the trustees of the church, and a short time ago brought an action to recover on notes to the amount of $6,500 for materials furnished in building the new church. The main charge against them seems to have been that they were friendly with Mr. Widdemer.

The court found Eiders Smock, Leroy and Mehegan guilty of conduct inconsistent with the views given when writing. Sentence will be promulgated in the Presbytery. The court also suspended Horace Dean and wife, Hamilton Hurst and wife, H. D.
Coleman, M. D. Dager, Messrs, Van Vleet and Letoy, and Jonathan Minot and wife, and cited thirty other members to appear on February 13, and suspended them pending the hearing.

MARKET.

The dealers in the potato yards of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad, Jersey City and the end of West Twenty-third-st., New-York have formed a trust. The title of the corporation is the New-York and New-Jersey Produce Company Its officers are: President, Henry Bahrenburg; vice president, James Scott; secretary, C. H. Fowler treasurer, J. Fleming.

Eleven dealers, six in New-York and five in Jersey City, are in the combination. It is said that they deliver to the wholesale dealers more than 69 per cent of the potatoes received in this market, and the object of the combination is to avoid competition among themselves and prevent a reduction of rates, to reduce the expense of shipments and the cost of handling, and to increase the business by influencing the producers to ship to them and insure better prices. In fact, it is anticipated that the corporation will ultimately control the potato market. The combination went into effect on Thursday, and a number of employes were dismissed.

STILL IN IGNORANCE. THE CAMDEN INVESTIGATION DRAGS SLOWLY

ALONG

Camden, Jan. 3 (Special).—The Black-Relden Commission resumed its investigation of municipal af-fairs to-day, and the session was remarkable only for what it did not bring out. The commission created something of a stir by announcing that in all future sessions it would conduct the examination of witnesses instead of leaving that to the attorneys. They had been led to this conclusion after a consultaion with Justice Garrison.

Mr. Bleakly wanted the stock and other books of the Camden Lighting and Heating Company brought before the commission by Mr. Morgar. The latter replied that the commission could make a free and pany, but they would not be presented for a public inspection by himself and others. Commissioner Belden told Bleakly that he should file specifica-tions. Counsel, however, said he would not do that, as all be knew were mere rumors, and he did not deas all he knew were mere rumors, and he did not desire to make charges on them. He said the reason, for taking up the affairs of this company was because it received such a large amount of revenue from the city. He said that in 1891 the assessment of property was about $15,000,000, and the city tax rate was $3 cents. Of the money raised for taxes, 52,000 was spent for lighting. In 1892 and 1892 he said that $50 out of $100 went for lighting, and in the last two years the appropriation for lighting amounted to $65,000 a year, and about $90,000 of this was paid to the Camden Lighting and Heating Company.

At log clock to-alght the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. Justice Garrison at once sentenced Their to twenty years at hard labor in State Prison. The verdict caused a good deal of surprise.

A STRIKE IN THE WOOLLEN MILLS.

Trenton, Jan. 3 (Special) -Another strike was ordered in Wilson's big woolien mills here to-day. One hundred girl weavers demanded an increase of wages, and, falling to secure a satisfactory reply to their demands, immediately left the mills, thus throwing out six soon bosses. Only ten girls were left at work in the mill, and it is expected by the strikers that they, too, will soon stop work.

The strikers want an increase in the price paid for weaving, and say that they have been compelled to weave heavy goods at 1% cents per yard, while they should receive 3½ cents.

Superintendent Hill believes the difficulty will be settled in a day or two.

NEW-JERSEY AT THE CAPITAL. Washington, Jan. 3 (Special).-In announcing a

A stock company, with a capital of $55,000, has bility," said ex-Congressman John T. Dunn, of been organized in this city for the purpose of erective Elizabeth, when a friend asked him at the Nor-Cleveland's receiving another nomination for the Presidency. "This is a practical age," he continued; 'there is no use chasing phantoms. The Democratic party isn't dead yet, by a long shot, and one way to rehabilitate it is to put at the head of the ticket next year such a stalwart American and man of nerve and brains as Richard Olney. Under such leadership sethargy would give way to enthusiasm; the clans would rally with the oldtime vigor and hurrah spirit, and the opposition would know that a fight was on. The Secretary's letters to Salisbury would be good enough campaign material. In every respect he sizes up to the full measure of the office, and I sincerely hope to see him hominated."
